Strategies & Tips to Protect Kids

The statistics are frightening: 1 in 5 children will be solicited for sex or explicit photos from an online "friend."

Despite the pandemic, last year Kristi House served more victims than ever — 1,940 children and their families — a growing number over all previous years. Many children we see are being solicited and groomed by online predators while using their phones and devices in what parents thought was the safety of their homes and schools.

This panel of experts have come together for Breaking the Silence 2021 to share strategies for keeping kids safe online.
